Olsson
Hiring Manager
Kansas City, MO

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Entry-Level Civil Engineer role at Olsson. This position truly resonates with my evolving skills, background, and genuine interest in engineering. Engaging directly with projects that improve communities has always motivated me.

Throughout my internships, particularly at Student Innovation Lab, I immersed myself in project designs via AutoCAD Civil 3D. Collaborating with teams helped me refine my technical capabilities. Gathering data and drafting reports became my strong suit, ensuring that every team member's input led to innovative outcomes.

During my capstone project, I realized the importance of sustainable site design. Leading a team to create a community park brought challenges. I sought feedback, adjusting our plans after discussions with local residents. Their insights helped shape our designs, connecting engineering with real-world needs.

Being part of civil engineering movements feels exhilarating. I thoroughly researched urban stormwater techniques. This experience allowed me to write for local conferences, exposing my findings to interested audiences. These opportunities taught me the value of precision.

While I did face struggles balancing school, internships, and club responsibilities, each effort taught me resilience and teamwork. My involvement with the Civil Engineering Student Society highlighted the significance of collaboration. Together, we achieved goals and supported each other's aspirations.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Kane Villanueva
