STRENGTHS

-  Inventory Accuracy
Physical checks and RF reviews resolved location differences. A quick recount often prevented a larger shipping issue.
-  Safe Equipment Use
Sit down forklift work stayed controlled around pedestrians and staged product. Coworkers knew careful movement came first.
-  FIFO Control
Date sensitive materials moved in proper sequence. That routine kept production supply orderly during busy shifts.
-  Document Review
Packaging lists and freight bills received a careful comparison. Small details helped stop mismatched loads.
-  Production Support
Scheduled material handoffs kept lines supplied. Clear updates helped teams adjust when priorities changed.

SUMMARY

Distribution forklift operator with three years of experience supporting regulated food and nutrition manufacturing warehouses. Handles sit down forklift operation, Cambar radio frequency inventory transactions, RF terminals, shipping and receiving documents, FIFO movement, lot control, release status checks, production line replenishment, label control, inventory reconciliation, and warehouse sanitation. Reads ship orders, packaging lists, invoices, freight bills, and warehouse records with care. Verifies commodity numbers, quantities, lots, and movement status before storage or shipment. Works safely in clean manufacturing areas, noisy warehouse settings, and physically demanding conditions involving prolonged sitting, standing, and lifting up to 50 pounds. Communicates clearly with production, shipping, receiving, and quality teams while resolving inventory discrepancies and supporting accurate traceability.

EXPERIENCE

Forklift Operator, Distribution

Riverbend Nutrition Logistics  October 2024 Present  Springfield, OH

Supports receiving, reserve storage, production staging, and finished goods operations in a regulated nutrition warehouse. Uses sit down forklifts, push pull attachments, RF terminals, warehouse records, and shipping documents to maintain safe, traceable product flow. Partners with production and shipping teams while preserving FIFO rotation, lot accuracy, release controls, and clean work areas.

- Verified RF item, lot, quantity, location, and release status before each warehouse movement.
- Maintained FIFO rotation while replenishing production lines and staging finished pallets for shipment.
- Compared packaging lists and freight paperwork with loads, stopping mismatches before controlled inventory shipped.
- Reconciled location and quantity discrepancies through physical checks and RF transaction review.
- Kept aisles and staging areas clean while following PPE, pedestrian controls, and quality procedures.

Warehouse Associate and Forklift Operator

Summit Food Distribution  September 2023 September 2024  Vandalia, OH

Advanced from warehouse picking into regular sit down forklift assignments after supervised equipment qualification. Supported raw material and finished goods handling through RF transactions, FIFO rotation, production handoffs, receiving checks, and end of shift housekeeping. Protected lot separation and accurate system locations across changing warehouse priorities.

- Earned regular sit down forklift assignments after supervised qualification and safe equipment operation.
- Picked raw materials and finished cases by item and lot using handheld RF transactions.
- Rotated date sensitive inventory through FIFO rules and documented exceptions for supervisor review.
- Delivered staged materials to production handoff points without mixing lots or release statuses.
- Compared received materials with packing lists and freight documents before put away.
- Completed housekeeping and equipment checks, supporting safe turnover for each warehouse crew.

PROJECTS

Warehouse Traceability Improvement 2025

A careful inventory check helped identify gaps between physical locations and RF records. Reviewed movement steps, lot details, and release status checks, then supported clearer reconciliation practices for safer product flow.
