Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Frontend / Backend Developer Intern role at Creative Tech Solutions. This opportunity perfectly matches my growing skills in software development. It stands as a chance to immerse myself in innovative tech.

Throughout my two years in software development, I have built responsive interfaces using JavaScript and React. I navigated the intricacies of workflow while collaborating with backend engineers, transforming ideas into functional applications.

At Tech Innovations, I created dynamic user interfaces with React while enhancing the user experience. Debugging stubborn issues and refining application quality became part of my daily routine. Each challenge sharpened my problem-solving skills.

During my internship at NextGen Software Solutions, I assisted in refining backend services using Java and Spring Boot. I also optimized database queries, which led to measurable performance improvements. These experiences honed my technical acumen.

I understand that this role demands dedication to craftsmanship. I see myself working diligently to support your team and further develop my technical skills. Each line of code I craft is a step forward in my career journey.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Rory Sandoval
