

Jayce Rowe

Investment Banking Analyst - Intern

📞 (212) 555-6789 ✉️ jayce.rowe@email.com

🌐 linkedin.com/in/jaycerowe 📍 1234 Finance Ave, New York, NY 10001

JULY 03, 2026

Hiring Manager
CF Financial Services
New York, NY

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am thrilled to apply for the Investment Banking Analyst intern position at CF Financial Services, a chance that truly resonates with my finance background and my ongoing academic endeavors, presenting an engaging opportunity where I can learn and contribute simultaneously.

In my experience, particularly while collaborating on a simulated M&A project, I quickly grasped the essence of financial modeling, while team discussions honed our collective insight into client-facing materials, leaving me eager to adapt such skills within your dynamic environment.

Working alongside seasoned professionals, I often found myself sharing insights on market dynamics; during my research assistantship, I demonstrated my knack for clear communication by enhancing our findings for academic presentations, which required a delicate balance of clarity and thoroughness.

Despite moments of uncertainty in project timelines, my recent internships indicated that success thrives in collaboration, and I was recognized for unlocking potential through teamwork to create compelling pitches and solid financial analyses, proving that together we can achieve remarkable expansion.

I am genuinely looking forward to the possibility of bringing my analytical strengths and financial insights to CF Financial Services while immersing myself in an atmosphere that values assertive teamwork and innovative thinking.

Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Jayce Rowe

Jayce Rowe